HRTimes is a quarterly, local human resources magazine endorsed by the SHRM Maine State Council. Subscribers include SHRM Chapter and SHRM At-Large Members, business leaders and local HR professionals.

We are currently collecting articles and content for 2010. Though quarterly, we look for information that our readers can return to as a reference.

Articles could include topics from these subjects: Employee Relations, Training and Development, Compensation and Benefits, Recruitment and Retention, and Legal and/or Legislative Updates. Articles should be resource-information focused; plugging of products or services will not be accepted within the article itself.

Articles are submitted on a voluntary basis and run from 500 words for content to as many as 2,500 for a featured piece; on average articles run between 1,000 and 1,500 words.

Authors are allowed a 50-word biography where they can plug their products or services, and a high-resolution (300 dpi) photo image. Photos should be taken with a professional-setting background and submitted as a .jpg, .tif or PDF.

Articles and content must be approved by the SHRM Maine State Council. HRTimes reserves the right to edit all articles.
